

Regarding Unauthorized Sales in the Russian Region

Dear Customers and Partners,

Dongling Technologies Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as "Dongling") is committed to providing high-quality products and services to global users while upholding the highest standards of intellectual property protection and market compliance. Recently, the Company has identified multiple unauthorized third-party entities in Russia distributing products bearing the "Dongling" brand without official authorization or licensing. Such activities severely undermine the Company's brand reputation, consumer rights, and market integrity. To safeguard consumer interests and maintain fair market practices, the Company hereby issues the following official statement:

- Exclusivity of Official Authorized Channels

All sales, technical support, and after-sales services for Dongling products in the Russian region are exclusively conducted through the Company's officially authorized partners and channels. To obtain information about Dongling's authorized entities, please visit our official website (<http://donglingtest.ru/worldwide-dealer-information.html>) or submit an inquiry via email to (sales@donglingtech.com). Any sales activities conducted without the Company's written authorization are deemed non-compliant, and products from such sources may carry risks of unknown origin, quality defects, or lack of service guarantees.

- Risks Associated with Non-Official Channels

For products purchased through unauthorized channels, the Company will not provide any form of after-sales service, including but not limited to product warranties, technical support, component replacements, or quality assurances. Furthermore, the Company bears no responsibility for safety incidents or financial losses arising from the use of such products.

- Reservation of Legal Rights

The Company has initiated legal investigations into entities or individuals engaged in unauthorized sales, counterfeiting, or tampering with Dongling products. Our investigation has identified the following specific cases of unauthorized sales activities in the region:
